GOLDEN STATE COMPANY WILL WORK PROPERTY

The Golden State Mining Company, a California corporation, has been granted a permit by the State Corporation Department to proceed with the development of its Snow Point properties acquired from the Hegarty interests and Edw. C. Uren. The territory comprises the Curtis Placer Mine, the Wand & Blackwell, Wonder & Washington placer claims and the Coon and Standard quartz claims, having a total area of about 650 acres.

The Golden State Company officials, for the most part, are people who comprised the old Gold Lead Company who operated for a number of years on the south side of the ridge on the Mount Zion claims.

A tunnel has already been started by the company and will be extended to a distance of 2200 feet, where it will be under the center of the channel beyond the old workings.

The Snow Point channel has been exposed by hydraulicking for a distance of about 800 feet on the hillside above the Middle Yuba River and 2,000,000 yards of gravel have been removed. The bedrock elevation is 4200 feet.

After the cessation of hydraulic mining the channel was worked for a distance of 2000 feet southeast of

PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS HELD THRUOUT COUNTY

Dr. Evelyn Mayam, from the Bureau of Child Hygiene, Department of Public Health of the State of California, in conjunction with Miss Emily Davis, public health nurse of Nevada County, held pre-school clinics throughout the county last week.

The Clinic was held in Grass Valley on June 6 under the auspices of the Grass Valley P. T. A. with Mrs. Gooding and Mrs. Bedford assisting the doctor and nurse in their work. Fifty-one children were examined in Grass Valley, including some infants.

On June 7 the clinic was held in the Washington school in Nevada City with the Women's Civic Improvement Club sponsoring, and Mrs. R. J. Bennets, Mrs. George Gildersleeve, Mrs. Walter Mobley and Miss Elizabeth James assisting. The attendance here was 22, an excellent average, which is over 50 per cent of the total children expected to enter school in the fall.

Dr. Mayman and Miss Davis were in Truckee, Floriston and Hobart Mills on the 9, 10, and 11, respectively and the total number of children examined there were approximately 50.

The purpose of these clinics is to examine the children for defects, such as bad teeth, tonsils, malnutrition or for defective lungs. The parents are informed of the defects and have the summer vacation in which to correct them.

Miss Davis is leaving this week for Los Angeles where she will take a summer course at the University of Southern California. Her brother, H. A. Davis, makes his home in Los Angeles and she will enjoy a visit with him at the same time.

Miss Davis has proved a very popular public nurse and it is hoped that she will return to Nevada County next year.

MINING CONTRACTORS ARE LOOKING FOR PROPOSITION

E. L. Chase and R. L. Chase were here the last of the week endeavoring to find a proposition of contract work either drifting or sinking. Both men are thoroughly experienced in the mining game having had 20 and 25 years experience in mining mostly throughout the mother lode country. R. L. Chase has formerly been in charge of mines employing large crews.

Thy state that they can interest parties in putting up money if the property is attractive enough. They are not interested in prospects but want enough development done to prove that there is a mine of worth.

Call The Nugget office or phone 36 if you care to interest these men.

FIRST LOAD LEAVES TURPENTINE FACTORY

Saturday saw the first truck load of turpentine and rosin leave the Nevada City factory for San Francisco where it will be put into practical use.

The warm weather is conducive to the increase in the flow of sap. The chemical action of the violet rays of the sun is very beneficial to the quality of the sap so that the factory force has been rejoycing the past few weeks.

The factory is in full running order with the sap coming in from the field in regularly.

Mr. N. T. Mirov, chief chemist in charge of the turpentine factory, went to San Francisco to bring up his family, consisting of his wife and two small boys. They have taken Mrs. Phelans house on upper Broad street and will reside there in the future.

SUPERVISORS TO MEET MEEK IN YOSEMITE

Secretary B. B. Meek of the State Highway Commission has promised to meet the local Board of Supervisors at the State Association of Supervisors which meets in Yosemite on the'18, 19 and 20 of June. He will be accompanied by the members of the Highway Commission.

The local Board of Supervisors, consisting of President R. Eddy of Nevada City, E. B. Dudley of North Bloomfield, Henry Gough of Grass Valley, Joseph Frank of Rough and Ready and Elec Robinson of Truckee. They will leave Nevada County June 17 in order to be ready for the session of the 18th.

In another column will be found the letter from Meek in answer to the resolution sent out by the Grand Jruy last month. The Board of Supervisors wrote to Mr. Meek asking for an appointment and the meeting this week is the result.

The matter of importance t be discussed is the completing the Ukiah-Tahoe highway to the east.

This road is dear to the hearts of Nevada Countians, connecting as it will with the Liberty highway. When completed the Tahoe-Ukiah highway will be one of the popular highways of the state passing as it does through some of the most scenic country in the state as well as being rich in historic settings. Thousands of people will come through Nevada County when the road is completed who now go by some other route.

It is sincerely hoped that the supervisors, in conjunction with the Highway Commission, will be able to devise a means to have the road completed in the not far distant future.

CHEMIST HERE SEEKING AMPHIBOLE ASBESTOS

Ralph S. Baverstock, of the firm of Baverstock and Payne, chemists and assayers of Los Angeles, is in Nevada County seeking a deposit of amphibole asbestos. This is a poor grade of asbestos with the fiber short and brittle. A fairly large deposit is desirous and must be near a railroad in order to facilitate shipping.

The company which Mr. Baverstock represents will either take over the property buying it outright or will buy the output but the former method is preferable.

'49 CELEBRATION PROMISES TO BE BEST IN HISTORY OF NEVADA CITY

The Fourth of July general committee meeting last Wednesday evening and a meeting of the Concessions Committee on Thursday night provided an impetus to the coming '49 celebration which now promises to be one of the best that Nevada City has seen for a long time.

It is planned to reopen certain buildings in town and have therein qualified experts in some of the arts which have long since passed from common practice. Independence Day will be celebrated here this year in a fashion in which it is believed that the pioneers of the early days might have celebrated the birth of American Independence.

No doubt when July 4 rolled around in the early days in California there were celebrations and they probably knew how to celebrate, too, in those days. It is hoped that Nevada City, with its well preserved number of original pioneer buildings, will be able to duplicate what the old time citizens of the town would have done.

Several stunts in the way of advertising the celebration have been suggested and as soon as they are worked out they would be put in operation. The Board of City Trustees plans to ask for additional police patrol to handle the traffic during the holidays.

Chief Jim Dick and his 'tribe" will probably be in the front rank of the '49ers. It is planned to have the Indians make the "long walk" from the Auburn hunting grounds to the council grounds at Nevada City where they will pitch their tents and live in real "honest to Great Spirit" style for the 3, 4 and 5 of July. It has not been settled where the first American will camp if they come but this feature of the celebration should go over big with some of the "pale faces" who are expected here from the big cities.

The Decoration Committee, consisting of R. L. P. Bigelow, W. F. Sharp, L. W. Jennings and C W.. Chapman, was authorized to gather general information as to where merchants and building owners coull secure a supply of slabs which could be utilized to transform the building fronts to the appearance of log buildings. Many of the buildings do not need this but it would unquestionably give a more pioneerish look to some of the tiled and extra painted locations in town.

At some time in the near future, the exact date not yet having been set, it is the desire of the committee that every one appearing on the street wear '49 apparel. It is known that several ladies are turning back the pages of histories to find what they would have worn had they not delayed in their earthly sojourn and no doubt the men of the city will not allow their fair sisters to outdo them. Anyhow, its getting too hot for a coat anyway.

Another meeting of the General Committee has been set for tonight (Monday) at the Chamber of Commerce and it is earnestly requested that as many citizens attend as possible. Considerable help is necessary to put over a July 4 celebration and everyone who can possibly spare the time should come to these gatherings to help keep things moving and offer suggestions.

ROAD CONDITIONS ARE BEING IMPROVED

Supervisor "Dick" Eddy has completed his summer grading and will start to haul gravel for the surfacing of the roads. Later in the summer he plans to oil several of the roads in the district.

The Yuba Pass highway from Downieville to Sierra City is closed five days of the week and open only on Saturdays and Sundays to allow traffic to go through. Thi sis an accommodation to the week-end tourists. The road crew working on the Yuba Pass highway are making good progress and it is expected that they will be finished before the time scheduled.

The Tahoe Ukiah highway, east of town, has been scarified and rolled in preparation for the two coaots of gravel it is to receive.

COMPRESSOR INSTALLED AT SPANISH MINE

A new compressor is being installed at the Spanish Mine near Washington. J. Lopez has been doing the hauling.

The Spanish Mine is now employing 30 men. There are now driving two drifts, one at the tunnel level and the other 200 feet below. James Bradley is superintendent of the mine which has been working for the past six years.

GOOD HEADWAY BEING MADE ON YUBA HIGHWAY

DOWNIEVILLE, June 15.— (Special to The Nugget.)—Unusual headway is being made by the contractors on the Yuba Pass Extension Highway. Though the shovels have been in operation well below the old Sunshine mine ,and without interruption, the entire road to Newhouse should be finished within three months, at the present rate of progress. Rumors to the effect that the road will be continued to Downieville this season are persistent, but have not been substantiated. Unstinted credit should be given the Forest Service and R. L. P. Bigelow, Supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest for this splendid highway. The value of this road to Sierra and Nevada counties, upon completion, will far more than offset the temporary depression of business due to its construction during the summer months.

WEDDING BELLS TO RING AT BUFFINGTON RANCH

MERRIAM COMMENTS ON RECENT MINING EDITION

New York, June 4, 1930.

Mr. A. A. Willoughby,
Nevada City Nugget,
Nevada City, Calif.

Dear Mr. Willoughby:

It does seem unnecessary for me to tell you how much I enjoyed your last mining issue. I also want to congratulate you upo nthe enlargement of your paper ,and the installation of your new machinery, equipment, etc. You have certainly made a great success of your enterprise there in Nevada City, but I do not particularly commend you for that. That merely shows that you are a good business man, and you have deserved that success, by sticking on the job, and working faithfully at your project.

What I think deserves especial commendation has been your patriotic and civic attitude manifested in your upbuilding of the community. To rehearse what you have done for your section is a mere waste of words. The power of the press is mighty in any community ,but all too often it is merely devoted toward the "grinding of the owner's axe," or the bitter criticism of those in authority, and actually destroying the good work of those wh are trying to upbuild the community.

Your work, on the contrary, has been of the constructive nature, and you have done much not alone for the upbuilding of your own town, but for your cuonty in general—yes, even of the state of California.

I find your mining publication the most interesting of all of those to which I subscribe in California. More power to you! I trust that the public will some day appreciate in some small measure, at least, what you are doing for them for the upbuilding of your community.

Yours very sincerely,
JOSEPH E. MERRIAM.

This letter was written before Mr. Merriam received the news of Mr. Willoughby's death. It is none the less appreciated. In another column will be found the beautiful letter of condolence written by Mr. Merriam.

CONDEMNATION SUIT BROUGHT BY P. G. & E.

A suit of considerable consequence will be tried at Auburn starting next Tuesday before Judge Raglan Tuttle, sitting for Judge Landis.

The Pacific Gas & Electric Company have brought suit against Arthur W. Nicholls of Berkeley to condemn a right of way for the flowage of water through claims along Bear River in the neighborhood of Dutch Flat, in which the defendant holds certain interests.

The majority of the co-owners with Nicholls sold their rights to the P. G. & E. Co. more than three years ago, but Nicholls contends that the price was not satisfactory to him and he refused to sell.

It is presumed that Nicholls will

DIST. ATTORNEY'S FIGHT IS THREE-CORNERED

O. E. Winburn, local attorney, has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of District Attorney at the August primaries. Mr. Winburn has been practicing law in California for about nineteen years. He served for five years as Police Judge of the former city of Watts, a municipality of some 15,000 population which was recently annexed to Los Angeles. For five years he acted as city attorney at Watts and for one year he acted as city attorney for Lynwood, another Los Angeles suburb.

The candidate is 53 years of age, a native of Georgia, and holds membership in several orders, including

O. E. Winburn

York Lodge, No. 423, F. & A. M.; Royal Arch Masons No. 138; San Pedro Commandery No. 60; R. & S. Masters Council No. 11; Al Malaikah Temple of Shriners at Los Angeles.

I announcing his candidacy Mr. Winburn said:

"I believe that my long experience in the law and especially in matters pertaining to legal procedure required in making public improvements coupled with the fact that I have handled hundreds of criminal cases, justifies me in permitting my name to go on the ballot.

"During my experience as a public official I have performed all legal work required in over 200 public improvements such as street paving,lighting and sewers. My experience on the bench, where I handled over 3000 criminal cases, has, I believe, fitted me to properly take care of such matters as may arise in the county of Nevada.

"Citizens may rest assured that if I am elected, every crime committed in this county will receive vigorous investigation and uncompromising prosecution."

The Lieutenant Governorship seems to be a prize plum in the political game that many are angling for this year. It is an important office carrying with it the speaker of the senate. The Lieutenant Governor wields considerable power in the state and it is no wonder so many are out for it.

H. L. Carnahan , the incumbent Lieutenant Governor, is again in the race. Our good friend of long standing and brother publisher, Frank Merriam, who was speaker in the Assembly during Richardson's administration, is making a strong run fight for the majority of the votes. Our old classmate, Elmer E. Robinson, has his hat in the ring. He is an attorney in San Francisco. Among others is Senator H. B. Nelson of Eureka who is responsible for the gas tax which makes possible our excellent roads. It is rumored that more are to come out.

Truly the voter will feel like a small boy in a candy store when he goes to the poles in August.

The Republican nomination for Governor is a three-cornered race but none the less a puzzling one. It is rather early in the fight to name the winner and many nwspapers are staying out of the fight until they find which way the wind blows. Really, I think it is an excellent way myself. Nothing like being in on the winning side.

The old familiar verse might be changed to suit the aspiring candidates to read:

Smile and the voters are with you,
Frown and you stand to lose.

Take our friend, "Jerry Seawell," as an example.

We had the great pleasure of a "talk feast" one day last week with Edgar C. Levey, an attorney of San Francisco, speaker of the Assembly. His keen intellectual mind was a mental stimuli to us and we returned to the grind refreshed. He is interested in Nevada County and its problems.

In another column will be found the announcement of Charles G. Johnson, incumbent State Treasurer. He is a real friend to the mining industry. Give him your support Nevada County.

Getting away from politics and speaking of the weather, it is queer that those who a few days ago were longing for summer to come are complaining of the heat. How fussy we human beings are.

A new phase of the crippled mining industry (or at least one which the writer never thought of) was the fact that our famous California Blue Sky Law makes the financing of a mining company so difficult as to be almost impossible. As a result California speculators are putting their money into Nevada and other state concerns. Life itself is a gamble and people love to take a chance. What is more fascinating than a chance that a hole in the ground may be a million dollar producer. Why not give California speculators a chance at the game and stimulate the industry upon which this great state of ours was founded. Something will be brought up at the next legislature to change the present law. Under the New York laws the speculator invests at his own risk but the promoter who cannot produce the goods is severely punished. As a result wildcat promoters have left for more kindly ports.

Yours for mining,
E.P.W.

New York Has Largest of World's Carillons

The most famous carillon in the world is the St. Rombold's carillon of 45 bells at Malines, in Belgium. The belfry at Bruges has 47 bells, a like number sound from Antwerp's cathedral spire. In the belfry at Mons are 44 bells and from the belfry at Ghent 52 bells still ring even as they did when the treaty of peace between the United States and Great Britain was signed on Christmas eve, 1814. At Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and also at Middleburg, Delft, Utrecht, The Hague, Groningen and at Arnhem, famous carillons are found. Patriotic Americans have placed upon the Louvain (Belgium) library a carillon of 48 bells. In Canada there are five modern carillons, including Simcoe of 23 bells, Guelph of 23 bells, Toronto university of 23 bells, Toronto Metropolitan church of 23 bells and Ottawa of 53 bells, this last carillon being placed in the tower of the Parliament house. In the United States there are aproximately 30 carillons. The most important of these are at New York, a carillon of 63 bells, the largest carillon in the world, the gift of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in memory of his mother; at Cohasset, 51 bells; at Mountain Lake, Fla., 60 bells; Chicago, 48 bells; Germantown, Pa., 48 bells; Cranbrook, Mich., 45 bells; Gloucester, Mass., 31 bells; Birmingham, Ala., 25 bells; Detroit, Mich., 28 bells; Princeton university, 35 bells; Andover, Mass., 37 bells; Mercersburg, Pa., 43 bells; Morristown, N. J., 35 bells; Albany, N. Y., 60 bells; Norwood, Mass., 50 bells; Plainfield, N. J., 23 bells; Cincinnati, Ohio, 23 bells; Springfield, Mass., 47 bells; Indianapolis, Ind., 60 bells, and Rochester, Minn., the Mayo clinic, 28 bells.

"Radical," Term Applied to Advanced Liberals

At the mention of the "radical" there is immediately conjured up in the mind thoughts of Communists, Bolshevists or some other revolutionary group whose ideas run counter to those of law-abiding citizens.

That radicalism, however, is not a modern excrescence is known to all who have studied the movement.

The original radicals, in the word's present political sense, constituted an English party, active early in the Nineteenth century.

These radicals were really included in the Liberal political group of the day, the radicals being those members with more advanced ideas.

Henry Hunt and others who were in favor of radical reforms enjoyed the distinction or obloquy of being the first to be termed "radicals," the name being applied to them in 1818.—Kansas City Star.

An Afterthought

Illustrating his contention that the modern actor is too apt altogether to suppose that he is in some way above the author, H. B. Irving, son of Henry Irving, and himself a fine Hamlet—used to tell, as a great joke against himself, how he had been in the box office of his own theater when a clergyman from the country came in to buy a couple of tickets for a performance of "Hamlet." Having secured his seats the clergyman started to go, but as an afterthought he came back.

"By the way," said he, greatly to the amazement of Irving, "Who is playing the part of Hamlet?"—Kansas City Times.

Fertile Nile Valley

The waters of the Nile, which attain their greatest height in September, commence to recede in October, leaving behind them a rich, fertile soil, which first appears in the form of islands. To these the canny Egyptians row out at the earliest possible moment to plant melon-seeds, so that the melon-plans may mature, and fruit ripen, before the waters begin to rise again in June. One of the commonest sights in Egypt in the spring is a long string of camels roped nose-to-tail, and led by a small boy; each animal bearing on its back a huge netful of round green watermelons.

Trees in United States

The number of tree species varies enormously throughout the world, says Forests and Mankind. Over that great stretch covered by north Russia, Sweden, and Norway, the forests contain only about half a dozen tree species. In the hardwood forests of the East, one can find ten times that many in an afternoon's walk. Tropical forests have thousands of known species and perhaps hundreds more not yet discovered. About eight hundred different tree species grow in the United States.

The SANDMAN STORY

GEORGIE, THE FROG

TOMMY hung on to the Wind, who was taking him for a trip, and all the time the Wind flew along; he whistled gayly.

But the trip was not a long one, even during his early adventures. In no time at all they were at the mountain top and the Wind introduced Tommy to the great pond leader.

The trip hadn't really taken so long, after all. Of course he had been enormously helped by this lift, which the Wind had given him. Still, it hadn't been so hard—save for the time he had almost stayed by the lake below. After he had made up his mind to come further, it had been easy.

Now he was at the top of the mountain and right in the heart of the top of the mountain was a pond—the loveliest pond he had ever seen.

In it were the colors of the sky. In it were the colors of the moss and ferns and flowers that were about. It seemed to hold in itself all the loveliest of shades and colors. And so close at hand seemed the sky, though Tommy stretched out a hand and found the sky, after all, was nowhere within reach.

Sitting on a stump, a handsome old stump, sat a big frog.

"I want to introduce you to Mr. Georgie Green Frog," said the Wind. "Georgie, meet Tommy."

"Goog-a-room," said Georgie, "make myself at home."

The Wind had gone off again, and Tommy was sitting by the edge of the pond, very near the stump. He thought he must have misunderstood the frog.

"Thank you," Tommy answered, "I'll make myself at home."

"Goog-a-room. I didn't say that," Georgie gurgled. "I said to myself, 'Make myself at home.' That makes me happy and puts you at ease. You'd be ill at ease, I'm sure, if I let a fly or a bug escape my nose. So I just go on the same, whether I have company or not."

"Is the cave near here?" Tommy asked.

"It is," said Georgie, "but don't hurry away just as you've come. Besides, the old man said I could talk to you first."

Tommy thought Georgie was quite an entertaining frog, and the thought of talking to him was a jolly one.

"The whole secret in this business of understanding animal talk," said Georgie, "is patience. Of course, as you're an adventurer, you're being given special permissions and privileges—and you can talk in a word-fashion with us. But as the old man says, anyone who has patience and who cares for creatures such as we are, can learn what we have to say and what we do and how we live.

"I'm the pond leader now. It was a great promotion for me."

Georgie swallowed a bug which had landed on his nose. Then he continued:

"There was a time when I was a foolish young frog. I thought I was better than all of the others. I went to take up my abode with the Sbons who live at Gums Landing. If you spell those words around the other way, you will see what they really mean, but in those days I didn't see anything right, and so I didn't see that.

"Well, they're creatures which look big at first, but you find they're pretty small after a time. And how they did treat me. They gave me a banquet, but they made remarks about my having been a tadpole in my youth and having come from a mud home, and that I swallowed my skin when I molted, showing, they said, how poor and of little account the family was that we had to eat our own skins!

"That was enough for me. So here I am leading the Frog Chorus every night."

Again Georgie swallowed a bug. "That was delicious, thank you, bug, so much," Georgie said. And then he added: "Of course the bug can't appreciate my thanks after he has been swallowed, but every once in a while I believe in being mannerly. It keeps one in practice."

"And it makes me think," said Tommy, "that I'm most frightfully hungry, and I've a knapsack filled with food."

Georgie started to croak and croak, then, and from all around came frogs and turtles, birds, squirrels and little wild rabbits.

Tommy spread out the knapsack, and everyone had a feast. Such good things as there were to eat, and such a lot of everything, too.

SHADY TREE

Nuvorich (wittily, to visitor)—You see a storm destroyed all our shade trees. The only one left is our family tree.

Plain-spoken Friend—Why not use that? It's shady, I hear.

One Forest Fire Cause

In Forests and Mankind explanation as to why forest fires occur so frequently in areas that have already been burned over is given: "Fires in a sense brew fires. The effect of each fire, no matter how light, is to prepare the land for another, since each successive burning leaves dead trees and charred limbs behind it, that under the hot summer sun dry out like tinder and furnish more and more fuel for the flames that follow, until at last the land becomes a barren waste, unfit for tree growth—unfit for anything but to serve as a reminder and a warning."

Chose Good Place to Fall

A meteorite crashed to earth in Yenesei province, in central Siberia some years ago. It exploded as it neared the earth and illuminated the country for nearly 500 miles. The heat from this body could be felt for a distance of 800 miles. It was the largest falling star in history. If it had struck New York city, every building and subway would have been destroyed and every bit of life wiped out.

Thrift

A toiling friend of yore I met.
He was no idle sleeper.
He worked himself 'most out of debt
And then got in still deeper.

A Striker

Howell—I have to "punch the clock" at my office.

Powell—Well, it has hands and can strike back.

Great Church Organization

The Federal Council of Churches held its first meeting at Philadelphia, 1908, when it was organized. Thirty denominations were united by this act for the purpose of enabling churches to do together what they could not hope to do alone; to express the fellowship and unity of the Christian church; to unite the Christian bodies of America into service for Christ in the world; to encourage devotional fellowship and mutual counsel, and to secure a larger combined interest for the churches of Christ in all matters affecting the moral and social condition of the people and the world at large.

JOHNSON SHOULD HAVE SUPPORT FOR TREASURER

Having made a record of efficiency as State Treasurer of California, Charles G. Johnson is receiving the support of his many friends, financiers and business institutions throughout the state.

During his incumbency of eight years, he has earned over $15,000,000 for California and has never lost one cent, and in addition thereto, has commanded premiums totaling $609,000.

California is indeed fortunate to have as its banker, such an able executive, and will surely retain the services of one who has been tried and found worthy of confidence and trust.

Unfortunately, under our primary law, a candidate must make a statewide campaign for re-election. Without party sponsorship, it becomes necessary to personally solicit the electorate for votes. This is a gigantic undertaking, and both a physical and financial strain, and one which no candidate should have to bear alone.

The editor of this paper strongly urges all good citizens who believe in the administration of government by honest, efficient and practical men, such as Charles G. Johnson, to aid him in every manner possible by contributing in every practical way to lessen the burden which he as a candidate for state office must assume.—Independent-Leader, May 30, 1930.

DOWNIEVILLE ITEMS

DOWNIEVILLE, June 15.—(Special to The Nugget).—R. F. Taylor and Lavier Thomas left Thursday for La Porte, from which point they will make the yardage surveys of the various hydraulic mines of northern Sierra County. Included in these are the Mines Operating Corporations properties at Howland Flat, the Ironbound Mine, operated by Belle C. and Wm. S. Brown, at Hepsidam, the Independence Mine, operated by W. J. Duddleson, at La Porte and the Halana Hydraulic mine, owned by Mrs. A9nna Flannigan, near Hepsidam. The water season is now ended in the northern mines, and clean-ups have been completed.

W. L. Broun, New York and San Francisco writer, spent several days of last week here in search of material for a story of early California mining days. After considerable time spent in the old files of the newspapers and in drawing out stories from the "old timers" Mr. Broun expressed himself as highly satisfied with the material obtained. Mr. Broun was accompanied by Homer Fish, of the Development Bureau of the Southern Pacific Cmpany, whose photographs of Nevada and Sierra county scenery are well known.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Smith and family arrived Tuesday from Applegate to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Phillips and children of Lomita are visiting with Mrs. Phillips' sister, Mrs. J. J. Quinn.

R. J. Taylor and Barry Bower came up from Southern California for a short visit with relatives of Mr. Taylor.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. McCormick gave the couple a surprise party at the home of Mrs. J. J. Quinn Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cheek and Miss Bille Glass of Berkeley arrived Tuesday for an extended visit.

Mrs. Lizzie Denmire returned last week from a visit in Oakland and Sacramento.

Mrs. Antone Lavezzola and Miss Josephine Tomola visited in Nevada City Tuesday.

Under the leadership of C. P. Clinkner the merchants of Downieville are preparing for a Fourth of July celebration. This will be the first celebration in many years, and though no elaborate affair is planned this little mountain town promises to amuse her visitors over the nation's birthday. The usual games, races and other events are planned, together with a parade that promises to be worth seeing. A dance in the evening will conclude the day's festivities. The big hall will be entirely opened to the air and wil be cooed.

Mining Briefs

A. Jacobs, Lavier Thomas and Fred Baumgardt are doing the assessment work at the Gold Bluff mine.

Work has started at the Alpha-Derrer mine in Rock Creek, about seven miles south of Downieville.

Mrs. Marie Phelan has three men at work at the Australia mine, south of this place.

WHY IDIOSYNCRACY?

Old age is not an enviable lot, according to Miss Pauline Hjort, who has just died in Copenhagen at the age of 105.

"I do not live," she said very shortly before her death. "I merely survive. I am sorry that the Spartan life I always pursued has condemned me to live on. I am of use to nobody, least of all to myself.

Miss Hjort lived nearly fifty years in Boston. She left Copenhagen in 1854 in a sailing vessel and arrived in America after six weeks' stormy voyage.

DEVOTION WINS BELL OPERATOR EMBLEM

Early on the evening of July 11, 1929, flood waters from the Cottonwood Creek inundated the telephone building at Elmdale, Kan., a four-room framed cottage which also served as the home of Mrs. Myrtle Dorothy Dull, agency chief operator for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. During such an emergency telephone service was vitally important, as the whole valley was being flooded and the telephone was indispensable in sending in calls for assistance from marooned families.

As the water continued to rise, Mrs. Dull had the switchboard elevated on boxes and, ignoring her own danger, she remained on duty without relief until the following day, maintaining service throughout the flood.

In recognition of her courage and resourceful devotion to duty, she has been awarded one of the 1930 Vail silver medals and has also been given a cash award of $250.

MEEK SENDS REPLY TO GRAND JURY RESOLUTIONS

Following is a copy of a letter sent to the Nevada County Grand Jury by B. B. Meek, state director of public works, in response to the resolutions recently adopted relative to completion of the Tahoe-Ukiah Highway. On account of the fact that the Grand Jury meets only at long intervals, the advance pbulication is made.

Statement of Road Status by Meek

Receipt of your resolution adopted May 27, 1930 ,relative to the Tahoe-Ukiah road, our State Highway route 15, transmitted with the letter of May 27 from Mr. E. O. Chapel, Secretary, is acknowledged.

Your resolution recites that, after an interval of some eleven years, this highway is still incompleted, that the Board of Supervisors of Nevada County have requested information from the Department of Public Works and have received an unsatisfactory reply, and that, therefore, your body requests the Department to advise you when this road is to be built and completed.

The revenues available for State highway construction are apportioned by law 75 per cent to primary roads. This 25 per cent for secondary roads is divided equally by law between the North and South sections of the State. There is available, therefore, for construction of secondary roads in the Northern part of the State, which totals 1777 miles 12½ per cent of the construction revenues. In this biennium this amounted to $2,25,7303.06.

The Department of Public Works and Highway Commission prepare every two years a budget in which is set up the available revenue, the apportionments as required by law to each group of roads, and a list of individual projects with the estimated cost of constructing each. This budget is submitted to the Governor and by him presented to the Legislature.

In the four years including the past and present biennium ending June 30, 1931, there has been expended and appropriated to the Tahoe-Ukiah road, State Highway route No. 15, $1,826,560.14. In the present biennium alone, the 81-82 fiscal years our budget program provides for $966,527 for route No. 15, and $740,915 of it is for construction projects. Of this amount a total of $288,000 has been awarded covering a contract between Nevada City and the Washington Road. The sum alloted to the Tahoe-Ukiah road is about one-third of the total amount available for secondary construction in the northern part f the State for the biennium.

All of the work included in the present biennium budget for route No. 15 easterly from Nevada City has been contracted for, or is under construction; and, with the completion of the construction on the 12 miles from Nevada City to the Washington road, the program insofar as route No. 15 is concerned east of Nevada City for this biennium will be complete. This leaves the gap from Washington road easterly across bear Valley to a connection with the Auburn-Truckee road, our State Highway route No. 37, for which additional appropritaion in succeeding biennial programs must be made.

As stated in our letter to the Board of Supervisors, surveys have been made of this section and estimates are being compiled so that the necessary information for additional projects will be available when our budget is prepared for the coming sessions of the Legislature. No further money is available until July 1, 1931, and will then only be available if the Legislature approves the budget which may include such appropriations.

This Department realizes the importance of the Tahoe-Ukiah road and recognizes it as one of the important secondary roads in the State. As a consequence the budget appropriations indicated by the figures given here have been as large as it was possible to make them, considering other important secondary roads on the State system.

Your body must recognize that a definite promise in advance as to the amount of money and the time of completion of a project as large as the undertaking between Nevada City and a connection with Route No. 37, cannot be made by this Department and the California Highway Commission, until the surveys and estimates necessary for compiling the budget on the entire secondary system are available. Therefore, no definite assurance of the exact amount of money to be allotted or the distance that can be completed could be made on this or any other road in the State system at this time. The best criterion of what can be expected on the Tahoe-Ukiah road is the large capital investment made during the present biennium on this highway. The State's interest in order to benefit from this construction already started requires that a continuing construction program be carried out on this highway.

I trust that the foregoing information and statement will present the matter more clearly to you.

NUGGET PAGE OF SPORTING EVENTS

With a good portion of the season now completed, the official scorer of the Blues has compiled some figures on the batting and fielding averages of the members of the club which show the standing of the various players in those branches of the sport.

Davis, the efficient south winding first baseman of the Blues, holds the batting champoinship of the club, having socked the sphere for the excellent average of .600. Larson, another regular, has planted the ball in the field to the tune of .555, better than one hit out of each two times at the plate.

Spencer "Mails" White occupies the position of leading pitcher, having won five of six starts, for an average of .833 which is a healthy figure and a comfort to the big right-hander.

The leaders in batting and the pitching averages are as follows:

The best five batters and their averages are:

	Pct.
Davis	.600
Larsen	.555
L. White	.500
Fischer	.430
Sbaffi	.410

The leaders in long range hits are: Singles: Hoskins, 19. Doubles: Fisher, 9. Triples: L. White ,6. Homers: Fisher, 1. Tamblyn, 1. Stolen bases: Tamblyn, 16.

Pitching averages:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
S. White	5	1	.883
Hoskins	3	2	.600
Sbaffi	0	1	.000

The Nevada City Blues baseball team played two games at the North San Juan cherry carnival on June 8, losing the morning game but taking on a few boxes of the famous San Juan Ridge cherries, they walloped their opponents in the afternoon session.

In the morning game, after the Blues apparently had the Alleghany team safely sewed in the bag and were leading 4 to 1, they lost their toehold for a time and the Alleghany team slipped over a brace of runs in the eighth and ninth innings to skin out ahead by the margin of the odd run, winning 5 to 1.

The afternoon contest was not as interesting a game. It turned into a slugging match for the Blues and a ball chasing affair for the Camptonville aggregation. It only lasted seven innings but the Blues managed to jar the ball for a total of 20 hits during that period. Bill Tamblyn, in the morning game gave a ball a ride over the apple trees in center field and pattered around the paths for a home run. A summary of the scores follows:

Nevada City	4	10	3
Alleghany	5	12	0
Nevada City	16	20	4
Camptonville	2	4	4

MINING REVIVAL IS BEING PREDICTED

Those who are in the "know" say that the general trend is toward a revival of mining interests. Just at the present time the shortage of money in circulation retards the industry greatly but the present hard times is only temporary as such times always are. In a short time money will flow freely and men are already seeking for places to invest their surplus. The interest of the investor has turned from oil stocks to gold mining and Nevada County is bound to profit through the channel of their mines.

People who have prospects with proper indications are urged to do enough development work so that when the prmoter comes there will be something tangible to show him. Join the Mining Association which is working for your interests and show that you are interested in yourself. The mining industry cannot be put on its feet without a hard fight. Don't leave it all to the other fellow and then rail at fate when things go wrong.

The Nugget is standing firmly behind the mining industry just as it has stood from its beginning three years ago and will continue to be the staunch friend to mining. We ask your support and cooperation.

FRENCH CORRAL ITEMS

Summer, real summer is here! With the mercury gaining a few degrees each day until it is catering around the 100 mark, one feels like being placed on a diet of ice cream. One thing we "French Corralites" may be thankful for is the purest and coldest of well water. We might add, cool orchard shades, if we do not have to undergo a dought, as we did last summer.

The picnic given June 6 at Memorial Park, Grass Valley, by Miss Laura Moulton and Mrs. Elsie Schwartz for the North Bloomfield and French Corral schools, was a most delightful outing and was enjoyed not more by the happy children than by the older people who were in attendance. The generous spread of delicious edibles and ice cream, until you couldn't eat any more, was one of the main features. We must be a little slangy and exclaim with the children, "Oh, Boy!" We must not forget to give our important county town of Grass Valley, and the famous quartz center of the world, a little boost by congratulating on having beautiful Memorial Park. We all left with the hope of visiting the delightful spot soon again.

Quite a number of former residents and children of former residents have visited French Corral during the past week.

Mr. Edward Kuhlman, with his son, Lloyd, wife and mother-in-law, all of San Francisco, were the guests of Mr. Kuhlman's sister, Mrs. J. W. Culver, from Friday until Monday. On their departure for home they were accompanied by Mrs. Culver as war as Auburn, where she will visit for a few days wiht her son Edward Wilcox, who is in charge of the Weiss electric plant near that place.

Mr. Edward Kuhlman came to French Corral with his parents, the late John Kuhlman and wife in his babyhood days. Here he spent all his younger days and early married life. His children were born here and attendd our school. His fahr was proprietor of the French Corral Hotel for many years and he followed in the same business. While the lively little town of French Corrall is of the past, all delight in coming back to enjoy the quiet and restfulness of the present day.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Myers of Los Angeles are visiting Mr. Myers' father, Thomas Myers of this place.

Mrs. Mary Liddy and sons of Alameda are spending sometime at the summer home of her aunt, Mrs. L. Frenesconich of Marysville. Mrs. Liddy, as Mary Dillon, spent all her younger days in French Corral.

Miss Frances Moulton came from Sacramento to spend the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton.

Miss Theresa O'Conner of Birchville, has gone with friends o na trip to Yosemite.

Many out of town people and former residents attenled the cherry carnival held at San Juan Saturday and Sunday.

Elton McPherson of Sacramento, a former French Corral boy, was a Sunday visitor.

Misses Alice and Virginia Day of Nevada City were Sunday visitors and were also in attendance at the cherry carnival at San Juan.

Miss Frances Moulton returned to Sacramento Sunday night. She was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton and Miss Barbara McMinn.

Mr. L. Dudley visited French Corrall Sunday.

Mr. Lee Day of the U. S. mint, San Francisco ,is the guest of W. E. Moulton and family.

A. Browning spent Sunlay with his family at this place.

Dr. A. J. Powell, who has been spending the spring months in French Corral, returned to his home in Oakland Monday.

H. Hoskins is engaged in harvesting for Wm. Wright of Pleasant Valley.

A. Hoff of the Standard Co., Garss Valley, had business here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker of Oakland, who are visiting relatives in Auburn, made a trip to French Corral Tuesday. Mrs. Becker is the granddaughter of A. Fulwuler an early pioneer of this place and of Pleasant Valley. Her father, Charles Fulweiler, was born in French Corral 75 years ago, and she was pleased to find one house in which her grandfather had lived still in a perfect state of preservation and she took a photo of it.

Mr. Simmons of Parks Bar was a visitor this week.

Mrs. A. Browning and sons, Willie and Donald, and Mrs. K. Sullivan, Albert Moynier and Joseph made a trip to Nevada City and Grass Valley Thursday.

Lawyer Specialists

Lawyers nowadays are fast becoming specialists. They have been described as social scientists, but they are not as good as that. However, the average student does not have the intimate ken of Blackstone, Coke, Middleton, Chitty and other authorities that were the boon companions of the scholars of other days. The law of today in its form and interpretation is vastly different from that of two generations ago, despite that it is fundamentally a slave to precedent. But as the general practitioner in medicine has given place to the specialist, so is the transformation in the domain of law.—Los Angeles Times.

Famous Old Roman Road

The Appian way is the oldest and most celebrated of all Roman roads. It was begun by Appius Claudius Caecus while he was censor in 313 B. C. It has an admirable substructure or foundation from which all loose soil has been carefully removed. Above this are various strata cemented with lime, and lastly comes the pavement, consisting of large hexagonal blocks of stone composed principally of basaltic lava and joined together with such precision as to appear one smooth mass. This road surpasses modern roads in durability and is still in use.

Velocity of Falling Body

Theoretically, a body that is falling increases its velocity 32 feet per second every second, if the action of gravity is wholly unresisted. Recent experiments made by the United States Army Air corps, however, have shown that an object the size and weight of a human body never attains a greater velocity than 118 miles an hour, in falling from any altitude. This velocity is attained after falling 1,200 feet in quiet air and about eleven seconds after commencing to fall.

Not Slang Phrase

Does "galore" sound like slang? Does it radiate Wild West Americanese, cowboy lingo or rustic originality?

Maybe so, but if it is so, it's all wrong.

For "galore," meaning "in abundance," has been borrowed practically bodily from the Irish "go loor," in which language it has a sense identical with that which it enjoys in English.—Kansas City Star.

Fast Work

Mike was engaged to do a job of painting for Mr. Smith. After a while he came in saying the job was completed and asked for his money.

"But, Mike, I wanted two coats on that building. I'll pay you after the second coat," said Mr. Smith.

"You've got it," said Mike. "I mixed the first coat with the paint for the second and put on both coats at the same time. Speed is my motto."

Running Away

Many explorers, so highly praised for braving jungle heat and ice floes are really "escapists" who have found these physical pains easier to endure than the emotional stress of staying at home and getting along with their wives and brothers and neighbors.—Country Home.

"Crackers" First Baked by Massachusetts Man

As far as any authentic record shows, the first cracker bakery in the United States was that of Theodore Pearson at Newburyport, Mass. He began business in 1792 and his specialty was a large cracker which was known both as a "pilot" and as ship's bread. Joshua Brent was Pearson's first great business rival. He erected an oven for cracker baking at Milton, Mass., in 1801. He was succeeded by many other cracker manufacturers. The crackers were first made by hand. During the years between 1840 and 1865 the mechanical process employed in making crackers underwent a remarkable development. Prior to 1840 the use of machinery in the cracker-making process was practically unknown. Even then the dough was still worked up and put into the oven one piece at a time. Machinery was finally invented which took the dough after it had been prepared by hand and rolled it into a thin sheet which, as it passed over a sort of endless belt, was cut by a stamping machine which works automatically.

Nature Gives Warning in Odors That Offend

It may be regarded as a safe rule to regard offensive odors as associated with poisonous substances. Sewer gas, though not necessarily infectious, is nevertheless known to be harmful because of the poisonous and malodorous substances of which it is composed. The deadly carbonous oxide, though itself odorless, is almost invariably associated with other gases which betray its presence. The sense of taste also serves as a protection against poisonous substances. Wholesome substances, with rare exceptions, have neutral, sweet, sweetish or acid flavors. Substances which have bitter, acrid, smarting, nauseating or astringent flavors are usually noxious. So great is our perversity, we actually contaminate and render harmful perfectly wholesome foodstuffs by the addition of pepper, mustard and other hot and irritating substances which Nature warns us against.—Dr. John Harvey Kellogg in Good Health.

Ground Squirrel Economy

Rodent-control experts in the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture often save considerable money for farmers or ranchmen who have rodent pests on their lands. Not long ago a rancher in California had planned to use a fumigant on 4,500 acres in an effort to rid the land of ground squirrels, at an estimated cost of $4,500. On the advice of a biological survey worker, who found that on this particular ranch fumigation would be expensive and unsatisfactory, the rodents were controlled by a specially prepared poison mixture of steam-rolled oats, at a cost of only $200.

Tropical Fish

The difference between a sailfish and a flying fish is that the flying fish flies, after a fashion, and the sailfish does not. Flying fishes, of which there are a number of species, are small and light but have long wing-like pectoral fins. The fish works up speed in the water, throws itself into the air, and the "wings" are able to carry it for some distance.

The sailfish is a very large deep sea fish, related to the swordfish, but having teeth, and characterized by the large, high dorsal fin, which is suggestive of a sail.

Substance and Shadow

"What really counts," said the ready-made philosopher, "is something genuine."

"You say so," answered Cactus Joe, "but I never yet saw a real cowboy that drew as much salary as an actor would get merely for lookin' like one."

"It ain't the trees that block the trail,
It ain't the ash or pine
For if you fall or if you fail,
It was some pesky vine
That tripped you up, that threw you down,
That caught you unawares;
The big things you can walk around—
But watch the way for snares."

GOOD THINGS FOR TODAY

Here is something different to serve with a lamb roast instead of the usual mint jelly: Cut grapefruit into halves and remove every other section, in the cavity place a wedge shaped piece of mint jelly. Mold the jelly in one-half grapefruit shell and the wedges will be of the same size. These are delightful substitutes for a fruit cocktail when serving lamb or fowl.

Banana-Lemon Cake Filling.—Take three cupfuls of mashed ripe bananas, add six cupfuls of sugar, the juice of one lemon and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of butter. Mix and bring to a boil, stirring constantly to prevent sticking. Add one bottle of pectin and bring to a rolling boil, stirring constantly. Remove at once, cool and stir occasionally for eight minutes to keep the fruit from floating. Cover with paraffin and it will keep indefinitely. This rule requires eight to nine bananas or one and one-half pounds and makes nine or ten eight-ounce glasses.

Bake small cup cakes, spread with jelly and roll in coconut. These make very nice little cakes to serve with a cup of tea.

Rhubarb Betty.—Mix one quart of dry bread crumbs with one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter. Place a layer of sweetened rhubarb sauce in a baking dish and cover with the buttered crumbs; repeat, adding a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg until one quart of sauce and all the crumbs are used. Bake fifteen minutes. The fresh rhubarb may be used, adding sugar for each layer and baking twenty-five minutes. Serve with a hard sauce.

Peach Dainty.—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter with one cupful of sugar and add the yolks of two eggs lightly beaten. Now add one pint of whipping cream beaten stiff and one quart of sliced peaches. Serve over sliced angel food or sponge cake.

APPEALING DISHES

Let us not forget the value of fruits and vegetables in our menus.

Banana Supreme.—Peel, scrape and cut four bananas crosswise into quarters. Put one-half cupful of nuts through a food chopper with four graham crackers. Mix with one-third of a cupful of brown sugar, one-eighth teaspoonful of nutmeg. Roll the bananas in this and lay close together in a buttered pan. Bake 20 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Maids of Honor.—Beat two eggs with one-half cupful of sugar until light, then add two cupfuls of cottage cheese, two tablespoonfuls of cream, one-half cupful of seedless raisins, one teaspoonful of lemon peel, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of chopped almonds. Put a spoonful of the filling into individual tart pans lined with rich pastry and bake in a moderately hot oven.

History has it that these small pies were first made by the maid of honor to Katherine of Aragon.

Apple Fluff.—Peel, core and cut up three large apples, simmer with just enough water to cook without burning. Soften one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin in one cupful of water, then heat until well dissolved. Add the grated rind and two tablespoonfuls of juice of lemon, with one-third of a cupful of maple sirup to the apples which have been previously put through a sieve. Cool, and when beginning to set, beat until light. Add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs folded gently into the mixture. Turn into a mold which has been rinsed in cold water and chill. Serve with a custard made of the egg yolks, or cream may be used as a sauce.

Polenta With Sausages.—Sprinkle one and one-half cupfuls of corn meal into a quart of boiling salted water, stirring and cooking for 20 minutes. Now add one pound of sausage meat which has been well cooked and broken into small bits. Stir it into the corn meal and pour into a mold to cool. Unmold, cover with tomato sauce and cheese and bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

Little Mary Knew All About Social Workers

Karl de Schweinitz, general secretary of the Family society, tells of a social worker who recently took Sammy and Mary, aged ten and six, respectively, in her car to a hospital clinic for examination.

It was the first automobile ride for both the children—and Sammy could not restrain himself. He had to see everything that passed, including street cars, people and even vacant lots. Kiddie-like, he had to stand up and lean far out the car window.

The social worker repeatedly told him to sit down—but he was too interested in the passing scenery. Finally, in desperation, she said: "Sammy, if you don't sit down I'll never take you for another ride in my car."

To which Sammy rather impishly replied: "Do all your children mind you perfectly, Miss X——?"

But little Mary knew better than her older brother and she scornfully corrected him. "Don't you know, Sammy, that Miss X—— doesn't have any children—she only has an office!" —Philadelphia Record.

Inventor of Piano

Bartolommeo Cristofori was an Italian harpsichord maker and the inventor of the hammer action used in the modern pianoforte.

No great amount is known of his career. He was born in Padua about 1651, and early served an apprenticeship as an instrument maker. After following that work for some years in Padua he began to be known elsewhere. About 1687 Prince Ferdinand, son of the Grand Duke Cosimo III, persuaded him to remove to Florence.

It was during the Florentine period that he made his first pianos. Descriptions and engravings of the time show that the invention is correctly ascribed to him. A grand pianoforte by Cristofori is said still to be preserved in Florence. He died in that city in 1731.

Early Saxon Cemetery

The discovery of more than forty skeletons on the "Hog's Back," near Guildford, England, has revealed that there was once a large Saxon settlement there. It was thought, when first the skeletons were unearthed, that they were the remains of malefactors hanged on the gibbet which once stood there. But further excavating resulted in finds of great interest, including a perfectly preserved drinking vessel and a spearhead and ferrule. From these British museum authorities are able to place the date of burial somewhere between 600 and 650 A. D. Among the skeletons are some of very large men, several measuring over six feet.

My Lady Nicotine

My Lady Nicotine was named after a gentleman—Jean Nicot of Nimes. He served as French ambassador at Lisbon under Frances II, and while there fell in with a Flemish merchant who gave him some seeds of the tobacco plant.

Portuguese adventurers had brought the seeds from South America. Nicot carried them back to France in 1559, and his countrymen, after experiencing the pleasures of indulgence in the crushed leaves of the plants which grew from them, conferred upon the plant the name of the ambassador. Hence to this day, botanically, it is Nicotiana, and its active principle is known as Nicotine.

Combating Greedy Sea

In southeast Essex, England, where much of the land lies below the level of the sea at high tide, an interesting experiment in protection from sea erosion is being made. A plant, known as Spartina Townsendii, has been placed in various spots where the sea encroaches. This curious grass-like vegetation is able to take root even in mud where a man must sink and, after getting a grip, it raises the level of this mud several inches a year, until eventually, it becomes high and dry land. Pastures that have been lost for many centuries are now being regained by the help of this friendly plant.

First Washing Machine Got Inventor "In Bad"

Therill E. Raisin of Glory, Maryland, who is credited by Country Home with being the first man to experiment with a washing machine, occupies no place in the ranks of men who emancipated women and lightened their burdens. Entirely to the contrary, such was the womanly scorn that Therill aroused in his sister Emily by his interference with the sacred Monday morning washtub rites, that at the age of sixty he had to leave his home forever under the suspicion of being not quite mentally sound.

The would-be inventor, says the article, had such an aversion to work that he hated to see others toiling, and wash day brought him particularly keen pangs. Mr. Raisin took a discarded butter churn, filled it with water, soap and several pairs of overalls and induced a colored man named Benjamin to operate it.

The idea was superb, the execution all wrong. The overalls and churn were wreckage in no time at all and there was such a furore about it that Therill moved out. "Go ahead and rub your hands off on your derned washboard," he said, in parting. "I ain't saying you can't get clothes clean on a washboard, but one of these days you're going to have washing machines and then you'll think of me."

NEVER HAD ANY

The oldest inhabitant was being interviewed by a newspaper reporter.

"And to what do you attribute your longevity?" he was asked.

"Eh?" queried the old man, who was rather deaf.

"Your longevity," repeated the reporter.

"Oh, so far as I remember," was the reply, "I've never had one."

Bones of Animals Long Extinct Found in Hawaii

Bones of an extinct ground sloth, the first ever found on the island of La Gonave, off the coast of Haiti, may cast further light on the animal life that flourished in the region before Columbus discovered America.

The remains were secured by Arthur J. Poole and W. M. Perrygo of the Smithsonian institution.

La Gonave, probably the most primitive part of Haiti, was combed for two weeks for bones of creatures which have disappeared from the earth. The sloth, no larger than a small pig, had been found on other islands of the region, but not before on this old portion.

Other findings, some in new fields and others in continuance of similar work in past seasons, included more than a dozen different types of animals ranging in size from a field mouse to a beaver.

The bones were found preserved in more than 15 dry caves. While there is no scientific proof, it is believed that the animals were brought to the rock-bound cells by giant owls and by Indians who were driven from existence with the coming of the white man.

Dead Sea Remarkable for Its Lack of Outlet

The Dead sea is, in itself, an interesting phenomenon. It is about 1,300 feet below the level of the not far off Mediterranean, and it receives its water chiefly from one source, the River Jordan.

There are no especially saline features in the basin itself and but few in the waters which enter into it, but there is no egress whatever. Water leaves the Dead sea by evaporation only, and through countless milleniums such salt as there was has remained in the "sea," until now it is indescribably salty and bitter. The dryness of the atmosphere alone prevents the sea from overflowing.

I reminded myself of Doctor Johnson's remark to his biographer, in reply to his question, "Do you not think the Giant's causeway worth seeing?" "I do, sir, but not worth going to see." That is exactly my opinion of the Dead sea.—A. Edward Newton in the Atlantic Monthly.

Property Owned by "Nobody"

"Nobody" has property rights that are respected in England.

Every now and then the efforts of county authorities to acquire a piece of land for public purposes disclose that the land is owned by "nobody."

Two plots near Hampton court recently were discovered to be such "no man's land" when the Surrey County council tried to buy them, and similar cases have turned up in the older and poorer parts of London.

The usual procedure is to have such land valued by a disinterested person and the money paid into court by the county council or incorporated town. Then if "nobobdy" ever shows up he can collect his money, knowing that his rights were looked after while he was gone.

To say of a man, "he means well," discredits his intelligence.

Women are welcoming the all-electric kitchen

Electricity heats water for 1/2 to 1/3 cent per gallon

WOMEN appreciate the cleanliness and the convenience of the all-electric kitchen. These are two reasons why almost every one of our customers today who is selecting an electric range is also selecting an automatic electric water heater.

Heating water with electricity is practical. Many electric water heaters installed for P. G. and E. customers, over 10 years ago, are still supplying dependable hot water service.

Another reason why women like the automatic electric water heater is that it offers flexibility in operation—

1. You may operate the heater manually — Turn the switch and heat the quantity of water desired and then turn the switch off. This is the most economical method.

2. You may turn the switch on in the morning and leave the heater operate automatically during the day and then turn the switch off for the afternoon or evening.

3. You may leave the switch on all the time and enjoy hot water 100% automatically — day and night. You'll have plenty of hot water at the turn of the faucet. Still, you will never have to watch the heater.

Automatic electric water heaters come complete with insulated storage tank. Or if you like, you can obtain the automatic heater without the tank and attach the heater to your present tank.

Orange Ice now on sale at Colley's

FROM A FRIEND

In the passing of Arthur Willoughby Nevada City and Nevada County has lost its most enthusiastic booster. Particularly is this true in the field of mining, which he rightfully recognized as this region's most prolific support andd he has always done all in his power to strengthen and advertise to the world the opportunities that are here for the mining industry.

Even while confined at home desperately ill, hsi active mind was still planning for the future of his paper and making suggestions for the coming celebration, perhaps little realizing that fate had decided he would not be here to participate in it.

Arthur Willoughby was a "go getter" in the most active sense of the word. Of course he made some enemies, as is most natural, but whatever viewpoint he took it was always for what he believed to be to the best interests of the community, of which he was a part.

He loved Nevada City and his greatest ambition was to stay here and to build up a newspaper in keeping with his spirit. And to you Mrs. Willoughby goes out our most sincere sympathy and the belief and hope that you will be able to "carry on" the good work begun by your husband.

The following letter was received from J. E. Merriam, Mt. Kisco, New York:

New York, June 9, 1930.

Mrs. A. A. Willoughby,
Nevada City, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Willoughby:

I was so saddened upon learning of the passing of Mr. Willoughby. While it was not my privilege to be well acquainted with him, my contacts with him, either in person or by correspondence, have been such that he won not alone my respect, but I was beginning to be very fond of him. There was something taking about his personality. I love enthusiasm. It was present in such a large measure in his personality that it was singularly stimulating to me. I have read the editorial about his being "supremely happy in those surroundings, and always called it 'God's Country.'" I can understand just how he felt about. I feel the same way myself. Somehow or other when I go out there, I take a new lease on life. All the romance of my boyhood days is revived and restored. I do not want to be a traitor to this community and locality which has been in a measure kind to me, and where I have undertaken my life's work, but you see, I am a product of the old New Hampshire hills, and how often have I heard my father preach on the topic "I shall lift up my eyes to the hills from whence cometh my strength." I believe that no man of good birth, breeding and fair upbringing can live long in those northern counties of California, such as Sierra, Nevada or Siskiyou, and not feel the uplift of the hills and those mighty mountains. I find myself yearning daily to go back there, at lease for a sojourn ,if not permanently.

In addition to Mr. Willoughby's enthusiasm, I think his outstanding traits were loyalty to his community and to his profession, and a dogged fearlessness which is most unusual in these times. Somehow or other I felt he would never compromise for expediency. I believe he would always have stood and fought for the right, no matter how disastrous the result might be to his own personal fortunes. This type is passing, and I glory in the thought that I knew him, and was inspired by these splendid traits in him.

I wish I might say some little word to comfort you, but wou will plunge into the wrk of "carrying on," and do that which would have made him happy had he lived, by thus perfecting the good work which he so nobly inaugurated.

Yours very sincerely,
J. E. MERRIAM.

Following received from the SecretaryModesto Chamber Commerce:

The mining fraternity owes a debt to the memory of Arthur Willoughby and no one knows better than the handful who conceived the plan of organization of the industry just how much he meant to the movement. In fact he began the movement when he started The Nugget and singled handed began to build up mining sentiment in his district. As I told him many times, we in Sacramento would never have had the hardihood to attempt the job had it not been with his connivance and steady, unselfish distribution and counsel.

You are doing a brave thing in deciding to carry on as publisher of The Nugget and I know that the community will respond. I am only sorry that I cannot be of assistance in some way.

Very truly yours,
R. L. KIMMEL.

From Slye & Condon, attorneys of San Francisco:

San Francisco,
June 10, 1930.

Nevada City Nugget,
Nevada City.

Dear Mrs. Willoughby:

Will you permit us to say that we feel in the loss of your husband that not only you have suffered but the whole mining industry of Northern California has cause for sorrow in the passing of a fearless champion with his heart in the cause of mining. We understand that you are carrying on and have assumed what he has left undone. May we wish that his courage, his steadfastness, his love for the work has been left to you, also, as your heritage.

Cordially yours,
SLYE and CONDON.

The following is from James D. Stewart, consulting mining eningeer, Auburn, calif.

Auburn, Cal.,
June 10, 1930.

Mrs. Elsie P. Willoughby,
Nevada City, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Willoughby:

Mr. Willoughby's untimely death was a shock to all his friends, and a distince loss to the mining interests and fraternity of Placer and Sierra as well as in Nevada county. Arthur had a way of hunting out mining news that was a gift.

Sincerely,

the pit by driving. Most of the gravel was removed through the old Golconda tunnel by Chinese leasers, who breasted the ground for a width of from 200 to 300 feet. On account of the richness of the gravel they worked the channel somewhat beyond their property lines.

A letter, written in Chinese, now in possession of the company, states that much of this ground paid as high as $16 per car, and the stockholders are naturally very anxious to get started on production.

As the channel passes southward toward Bloomfield it is overlaid by more than 400 feet of andesite capping so that its course is somewhat problemetical, but it is supposed to flow almost under the center of the divide.

The company will install a compressor and the latest machinery for the treatment of the gravel. Electric power will be available from the Spanish power line of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company which passes over the property.
